Document	Schedule E to the DeRISK™ Intelligence Platform EULA — Third-Party Terms & Notices
Version	1.0
Effective date	16 November 2026
Published at	denexus.ai/legal/third-party

1. Third-party content and services

1.1 Threat intelligence and other third-party content. Some content in the platform, such as threat intelligence, vulnerability advisories and industry loss data, comes from public sources and licensed third parties. It is provided as is, without any warranty from DeNexus or its licensors. You may use it only within the platform and in Outputs you share under EULA 6.6. You may not extract or redistribute it in bulk.

1.2 Connectors. The platform can connect to third-party products you choose to use, such as OT security and network tools. Those products are governed by their providers' terms, and DeNexus is not responsible for them.

1.3 Your own feeds. If you connect your own threat-intelligence subscriptions, your licence with that provider governs their use. You confirm that it allows the use. DeNexus may disable a feed whose provider objects or whose licence ends.

1.4 Trademarks. Third-party names and marks belong to their owners. Their mention does not imply endorsement.

2. Required notices

The following notices are given because the relevant licences require them.

SOURCE	NOTICE
MITRE ATT&CK®	© 2026 The MITRE Corporation. This work is reproduced and distributed with the permission of The MITRE Corporation. MITRE ATT&CK® and ATT&CK® are registered trademarks of The MITRE Corporation; DeNexus is not affiliated with or endorsed by MITRE. Used under MITRE's royalty-free ATT&CK licence for research, development and commercial purposes, as set out in MITRE's ATT&CK Terms of Use at attack.mitre.org/resources/legal-and-branding/terms-of-use.

We add further notices to this Schedule whenever a source's licence requires one. Notices for open-source software used in the platform are available on request from
